PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Congratulations to Tim Fries on capturing the WNYPGA Professional Championship at Arrowhead, with his 8 under performance! Also, to Jeff Urzetta and Dwayne Randall for their great play and top three finishes. They will be representing our Section in June of 2018 at our National Championship. The Championship will be conducted in California at the Bayonet & Black Horse courses.

Pete Bevacqua of the PGA of America announced the movement of the PGA Championship to the month of May, starting in 2019. The benefit for this date enables PGA of America to kick off the golf season with the many programs and initiatives that kick off then as well. Marketing and excitement around the PGA Championship will align much better with PGA Junior League, Drive, Chip and Putt and other initiatives.

Your Board of Directors will be meeting next week and we will continue to discuss ways to better represent and deliver your needs. One area of continued focus is amending the Section Constitution to better serve you. We are analyzing the composition of the Board, length of terms and the nomination process. Please don't hesitate to reach out to myself or another Board Member if you have concerns or wish to serve on the Board or Committee.

Continue your great work throughout the remainder of the season, and I hope to see you at a Section Event soon!

Kind Regards,
Michael

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

We are excited to be conducting the inaugural Sponsor Appreciation Pro-Am on Sunday, October 8th at our home site

More details will be coming soon but please save the date!

It is hard to believe it is already August. The deluge of rain we have seen in the North East this season I am sure has put a strain on many of our clubs and PGA Professionals around the Section. Last year was the complete opposite and it seemed like many PGA Professionals in our region were looking for a "rain day" just to catch their breath with the lack of rain. I know that personally this year sometimes I have felt more like a weatherman than anything else.

Despite the rain, it still has been an extremely busy and successful season for your section staff. The WNYPGA Junior Tour has been able to serve over 240 junior golfers and the Drive, Chip & Putt events have seen over 500 kids compete. About a month ago 40 PGA Professionals competed in the second major championship of the season – the WNYPGA Professional Championship. A special thank you to our host PGA Professional Bob Mellon and the entire club for their efforts. Congratulations to the 2017 Champion Tim Fries as well as Jeff Urzetta and Dwayne Randall for advancing to the 2018 PGA Professional Championship. The

STEVE BARTKOWSKI
WNYPGA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Western New York Section will be well represented.

This coming Monday and Tuesday close to 50 PGA Professionals will compete in the WNYPGA Coors Section Championship to be held at Cobblestone Creek Country Club in Victor, NY. As always we are very thankful to our partners of the event - Certo Brothers Distributors. This year however will just not be the same with the recent passing of Peter I. Certo (President of Certo Brothers). Peter I. was one of the biggest advocates of PGA Professionals and truly understood what each of you do to change people's lives through the game of golf day in and day out. We are excited to hand out the trophy to the winner following round 2 which now is named "The Henry P. Certo Trophy" to recognize and thank the entire Certo family for their generosity and friendship for many, many years.

While on the topic of our sponsors, we are excited to be conducting the inaugural Sponsor Appreciation Pro-Am on Sunday, October 8th at our home site - The Fox Valley Club. PGA Professionals will be asked to bring their members and will be paired with some of our loyal partners. The day will include 18 holes of golf and a dinner for the 2017 Section Awards banquet which will be held the night of the event. More details will be coming soon but please save the date!

As always please don't hesitate to reach out to a WNYPGA Section Staff Member if we can assist with anything.

Respectfully,

Steven J. Bartkowski
WNYPGA Executive Director

PGA REACH

WESTERN NY UPDATE

The Western New York PGA Foundation recently has gone through a re-branding and re-structuring and moving forward will identify as PGA REACH Western New York. This change will enhance awareness both on the local and national level with the focus being all that you as WNYPGA Professionals are doing to give back to the community through the game of golf. Identifying as PGA REACH will provide support through funding and marketing from the National level with the focus on continuing to build our programming and serve the community.

Recent initiatives taking place were the PGA HOPE Program - Buffalo Chapter and the Duster Challenge. The HOPE Chapter, hosted by our home site the Fox Valley Club, grew 200% from the previous year. The VA director did track growth and proficiencies of each Veteran and the conclusion was that every Veteran improved. They all completed their own personal treatment plan for goals and outcomes, which were all attained. The class even participated in a Drive, Chip and Putt contest in the second last week. A huge thank you goes out to Tim Fries, PGA, Jeff Mietus, PGA, Scott Marble, Bob Ashley, PGA & Ric Alberico, PGA for all their time in the 6-week program. Also a big thank you to some of your respective club members who donated equipment for the classes!

The Duster Challenge in its second year also was hosted by our home site The Fox Valley Club and administered by The Tee2Green Radio show. Over 70 participants (both kids and adults) came out for the 18-hole putting contest. The adult champion, Kyle Harmon, sunk his winning putt at about 10:00 PM under the lights provided by PGA of America Partner United Rentals. Your Foundation was able to raise approximately $2,000 through a portion of the entry and raffles. A huge thank you to Kevin Sylvester, Brian Koziol, and Jeff Mietus, PGA for their support!

Employment Brief - Mid-Season Review and Tune-Up

Many in our area of the golf industry talk about the season officially beginning with the Memorial Day weekend. That is the start to the “100 day war” terminology of mine that was shared with me by a mentor professional early in my career to define the time between Memorial Day and Labor Day. We know it is truly not a war, but more of an extreme grind. We are not out there fighting against anyone and I don’t take that word for granted, but the grind of the season can take its toll. The month of July saw us hit that mid-point between Memorial Day and Labor Day; we have seen the Fourth of July come and go. All of this adds up to the feeling of trying to keep our heads above water for the rest of the season. There seems to be little time to think, plan, or evaluate. Effective professional managers make time to do all of those things. An insightful review of the season up to this point is important to ensure an overall success. This is only “half time” for the year and this will allow for a look at the scoreboard and work to make adjustments as needed. Obvious places to begin are the financials, comparing revenues and expenses to projections and budgets to evaluate the operation. The most successful professionals evaluate on a monthly, weekly and in some cases a daily basis. Analysis will allow you to identify trends and areas of strength or weakness which will lead to the highlighting of any areas that need adjustments. Identifying these areas quickly will allow you to address problems and ensure they have a minimal impact on your operation. The midpoint of the season is also a good time to review your performance and that of your staff through a mid-season performance review. At the minimum, schedule meeting times with each staff member allowing adequate time to review their performance in a distraction-free environment. Let them know how important they are, make sure to congratulate and affirm them in areas of strong performance plus identifying areas needing improvement. In those weak areas, clearly define not only the need to improve but also make suggestions on how to improve. Define an action plan for improvement and a follow-up date to see how they are progressing. These items will allow for your operation to not only meet your current goals but also will allow for growth into a stronger operation for the future. In my next employment brief I will address further areas to review and tune-up as you head into the back end of the season.

While conducting your staff members’ performance review it would be beneficial to seek their feedback on how they see things within the operation. Your staff members can provide information and ideas that can improve the operation in surprising ways. It is always good to show how valued the staff member is by at the very least offering them a heartfelt “thank you” for all they contribute and continue to encourage them to strive to be their best even as the grind of the season carries on.

It’s also important that your own performance is evaluated by the appropriate individual(s). A common occurrence is for the professional to be left alone to do their job and your direct report doesn’t keep you informed as to how you are performing. Critical to the success of the operation is meeting expectations and with a mid-season review this allows for a perfect arena to review those expectations and how well you may or may not be meeting them. At some levels of management you may not get much reinforcement as to the job you are doing, so it’s important to discover any areas of concern that your employer may have, so you can address them in a positive and effective manner. If you are unaware of your direct reports concerns or disappointments, which leads to being unable to address them, could take you down to the road to a disastrous end of the season. In short, it offers you a chance to make an about face and work to ensure the operation and your performance will be seen as a success to your superiors. For more information on performance reviews go to PGA.org and look under the Employment Tab for resources. We all like to think we are doing our jobs effectively but it is important to take a step back, even in the middle of the busiest time of the season, and honestly find out how we are doing. We may come to the conclusion that we do even better.
